

Welcome to Something Southern Pottery

www.SomethingSouthernPottery.com

Something Southern Pottery is known throughout the southeastern United States for its exceptional high quality pottery.

The craftsmanship and artistic ability of Fred and Laura Ellis is second to none in pure southern pottery. Their hand-fashioned pottery is created in the tradition of excellence found uniquely in the south.

Fred Inspecting His Work

Fred wheel-thrown functional pottery and Laura's artistic embellishment and glaze consistently thrills pottery admirers with their attention to high quality and detail.

The Tunnel Hill mug is created by Fred and Laura especially for the Tunnel Hill Heritage Center.

